LATEST ETHERNET ALLIANCE WEBINAR TO FOCUS ON PoE CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Upcoming webinar to guide attendees through a deep-dive into Power over Ethernet certification program goals, requirements, and advantages

BEAVERTON, OR, APRIL 10, 2018 – The Ethernet Alliance, a global consortium dedicated to the continued success and advancement of Ethernet technologies, today announced details of an upcoming webinar focused on its Power over Ethernet (PoE) Certification Program. Providing an overview of PoE technologies, the presentation also offers an in-depth look at the program's goals, certification requirements, and benefits. The Ethernet Alliance's Introducing the Ethernet Alliance Power over Ethernet Certification webinar will be held 10am PDT on Tuesday, May 1, 2018.

WHAT: With both standardized and proprietary PoE products proliferating in the marketplace, it is critical to prevent interoperability challenges, minimize user frustration, and contain support costs. Led by Ethernet Alliance Chairman, John D'Ambrosia of Huawei, and Thomas Lewis of Texas Instruments, Introducing the Ethernet Alliance Power over Ethernet Certification examines the need for easy identification of interoperable products designed to available IEEE 802.3™ PoE standards. The webinar also details PoE Certification Program requirements and outlines advantages that certification brings.

WHEN & WHERE: The Introducing the Ethernet Alliance Power over Ethernet Certification webinar is 10am PDT, Tuesday, May 1, 2018. Event registration is now open at http://bit.ly/EA-PoECertWebinar.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: OEMs, solutions providers, network designers and engineers, and anyone interested in PoE will benefit from attending this free Ethernet Alliance webinar.

WHY ATTEND: Introducing the Ethernet Alliance Power over Ethernet Certification attendees will gain a deeper understanding of PoE technologies and the forces driving them in the marketplace, as well as the need for and benefits of the Ethernet Alliance's PoE Certification Program.
